

Aftercare Instructions

Caring for after the permanent makeup tattoo removal correctly.

Follow the aftercare instruction it is very important that we first explain and now as to what the client has to do for home care. Within an hour it's really important to keep them completely dry. Please take a tissue press gently but firmly to remove.

For the first 7 days apply a thin layer of antiseptic cream such as " Bepanthen first aid cream "(you can buy at pharmacies or Amazon) with cotton swabs every morning and night. And need to wipe off the old layer of the antiseptic cream with Saline or gentle make-up remover rinsed away and dry by gently patting with a tissue. before they apply a new layer of the antiseptic cream.

So please don't put water on your eyebrows for 5-7 days

- do not touch the procedure site during the healing process to avoid any bacterial infection.
- After the procedure, your skin may be swelling is a normal reaction of the body. So don't panic swelling should go down within a few hours after tattoo removal.

The skin characteristics to change after tattoo removal

The next 3- 5 days, the skin will actually form a crust in that time the skin is preparing to push off that crust and the olds colors during that time the skin may get itchy.

- No workout, No pool, No sun, and No sauna for 5-7 days. I mean you are going to be sweating. they cause open wounds and infection is possible. Because this is exposure. So it's should not exposure.

- After 5-7 days, the little scabs start to come off, just let the scabs come off on their own.
After the skin peeling, you will see that the area is still white.
And it gonna disappear about within 2-4 weeks. That's a normal thing. Because will protect your skin from the Sun and prevent oxidizing.

For oily skin: white sun protection may peel off faster than dry skin types. After the skin is completely peeled off. In this case, it is advisable to apply a sun protection cream to that area every morning for at least 2-3 weeks.

How should i treat my removal tattoo now that it has healed?
Answer: It is recommended that you use sunblock cream in order to protect the skin. So as not to let the sunlight burn the tattooed removal area.

Avoid any skincare that has the following ingredients.
